TURQUOISE EVENTS - A new and exciting events company has launched in Southwell!

Turquoise Events provides fresh, innovative and flexible events and marketing solutions, whatever your requirements.

Planning a party should be fun and rewarding. Seeing your family, friends and colleagues enjoying the fruits of your labour makes it all worthwhile...doesn't it?

In reality planning any kind of function, big or small, can be stressful to say the least. You are a perfectionist and have attention to the tiniest detail, you know what the end result should be, but you really don't have the time or even the inclination to spend weeks trying to find the best caterers and suppliers that provide quality and uniqueness, but that also fit your budget

We all know friends who have spent months organising a party to celebrate their wedding anniversary, only to find that the stress of putting together the night of their dreams has led to them not being able to stand the sight of each other on the night!

Equally, hosting a children's party should, in theory, be a piece of birthday cake. You are the adult and they are the children. You of course command respect from your own children at all times and having their friends to tea is a breeze. A birthday party is just that.. x 30 of their class mates. All of a sudden dragging them off to MacDonalds, Build a Bear or Charlie Chalks begins to seem an easy option!

At Turquoise Events we can take the stress out of organising a party or function of any description without taking the fun out of the planning. We ensure the client stays in control of their own event, working to their brief and communicating closely at all times. We can have as little or as much involvement as the client wishes. Our vast experience in a variety of party and events planning means we have a portfolio of ideas to ensure your event is unique. Our relationship with our suppliers ensures we can fit your budget without ever compromising on quality. Most importantly we will ensure your guests enjoy a superb and memorable time together with their host - who will be totally stress free, radiant and already secretly planning his or her next event!
