STAGECOACH - Preparing to perform in 'Chitty Chitty Bang Bang'

Stagecoach Southwell are celebrating success again; the local Stagecoach Theatre Arts School has had many of its students working professionally and they are starting the year with a 'bang', quite literally as three of the stage school's students will be appearing in 'Chitty Chitty Bang Bang' when the show comes to the Theatre Royal, Nottingham in February 2010. Joshua Woodman-Clarke, Keelan Rhodes and Elizabeth Jones all went through a difficult audition process and got through round after round to be then chosen to be part of the cast when it comes to Nottingham.

Extremely Proud Principal, Michelle Sills said, "All of us at Stagecoach Southwell are so proud of Josh, Keelan and Elizabeth and can't wait to go and see them performing. We often get opportunities coming through for the students and we work hard to prepare them for the auditions, giving them as much support as they need. I know that they will be outstanding and make us all very proud".

Stagecoach teaches the skills needed for acting, singing and dancing to children aged between 4 and 18 years. For more information and a Prospectus please call the Principal Michelle Sills on 0115 9614261 or visit www.stagecoach.co.uk.
