FASHION - Hot Winter Fashions

With the Christmas party season behind us, what should you be wearing to keep warm and cosy during the remaining cold winter months, whilst staying bang on trend?

Shaggy coats in vibrant colours are big right now – think yeti - the crazier, the better! An alternative is the cape, perfect for an evening out, paired with an elegant shift dress. Or choose a tailored masculine blazer - great teamed with jeans or denim shorts, especially flattering for petite figures or pear shapes. If you go for knitwear, ensure it makes a statement – the bigger and bolder the better; padded shoulders add a touch of 1980's vintage cool.

If you fancy an '80's disco-diva vibe, choose vibrant colours, a sequinned skirt, leather jacket and a graphic t-shirt – with polka dots if you dare...

Boots are huge this season – choose between statement shoe boots, below knees or, if you are brave, skin tight thigh length boots, all with ultra high heels and plenty of embellishment to ensure your pins get noticed! Or accessorise your outfit with strong and exaggerated animal prints - whether a bag, scarf, necklace, shoes or lingerie, it'll add a touch of sexiness to your wardrobe! Jewellery is chunky, oversized and makes a statement; try a leather cuff or a huge ring if you want to get noticed!

Enjoy the dynamic winter fashions – in spring and summer 2010 the bright colours of summers past will be replaced with nude, soft or ice cream tones. Faces will be uber pale, accentuated with bright red or dark plum lips and smoky eyes. Bed head or big afro hair will be cool. The sky high heels of recent seasons will be replaced with kitten heels and lower platforms and skirts will be creeping up the thigh.

Happy shopping!
